What: Henry Hill High School students will receive 10 surplus computers from the Bonneville Power Administration, the Pacific Northwest Power Marketing Authority.

Who: Paul O'Neal BPA account executive, Stan Kenyon, Monmouth city manager; and Dennis Busby, Power and Light Department superintendent will make the computer presentation.

These officials will be available to answer questions and give comments at the event.

When: 9 a.m., Thursday, March 5

Where: Henry Hill High School, 1610 Monmouth Street

Why: As a federal agency, BPA is implementing Executive Order 12999, Educational Technology: Ensuring Opportunity for All Children in the Next Century. The order allows agencies to transfer computers and related peripheral tools (e.g. printers, monitors, etc.) surplus to the needs of the agencies to schools and nonprofit educational organizations. BPA purchased its computers with revenue generated from sales to utility customers. In essence, that makes the city of Monmouth. Power and Light Department a partner with BPA in this effort.
